

Waste Management Resources and the Environment

WMR works under certain environmental principles and all clients are given a copy of these principles which are shown below:

WMR places maximum importance on achieving the ever-increasing environmental standards demanded by the public and maintaining good relationships.

The board of Directors are committed to the provision of environmentally and operationally safe waste management systems through our consultancy services.

This Environmental Policy seeks:

- the operation of a fully integrated service to WMR customers utilising the Best Practicable Environmental Option (BPEO) wherever possible;
- to ensure that the company's services, and others used by the company, are managed to the highest possible standards for waste containment and environmental protection;
- the protection of the surrounding environment and community in relation to the company's activities;
- innovation in developing processes and markets to fully realise the potential for waste recovery and recycling;
- to ensure operations are in compliance with all relevant legislation, leading to environmental protection;
- to ensure that the duty of care in respect of waste is fully implemented throughout its waste consultancy clients and services;
